CHAMPION MEDAL MATCH.

CONDITIONS.—Open to members only. Distance, 200 yards. Rifle, any within the rules. Position, standing. Rounds, 10, on Standard American Target. Entries free (except competitors must use practice score-cards). Match to open at 1 and close at 3 o'clock, P.M., on every rifle-shoot day during 1889. Medal to be held by the winner until the next regular shoot day, when it must be delivered to the executive officer at the range. It finally to become the property of the competitor having won it the greatest number of times during the year. Competitors will be allowed to shoot only under one name in this match, and only one score each day. They must finish their score every time they enter; failing to do this will disqualify them for further shooting for the medal. (This is done to get a record of single scores of all the competitors.) If a tie exists at the end of the year it shall be decided as follows: Each competitor tied shall shoot a string of 10 shots, handicapped on the basis of the average of 10 shot strings of his winning scores.

PRIZE, GOLD MEDAL.

Won by L. L. Hubbard.

TWENTY SHOT REST MATCH.

CONDITIONS.—Open to all comers. Distance, 200 yards. Rounds, 20, on Standard American Target, with Rest Bull's-eye. Entries free (except competitors must use practice score-cards). One score only allowed each day. Rifle, any, without restriction as to sights, weight, or trigger-pull, except that hair-triggers must be provided with safety locks, and rifles of over 12 pounds weight, with telescope sights, will be handicapped 4 points. Any position or rest, provided the rifle is shot from the shoulder. Match to open at 1 and close at 4 o'clock, P.M., on every regular rifle-shoot day during 1889, when two or more competitors have entered. Medal to be held by the winner until the next regular shoot day, when it must be delivered to the executive officer at the range. It finally to become the property of the competitor having won it the greatest number of times during the year. Conditions with reference to name, finishing score, and deciding ties same as "Champion Medal Match."

PRIZE, GOLD MEDAL.

Won by J. R. Munroe.

REPORT OF RANGE COMMITTEE.

To the Massachusetts Rifle Association:—

GENTLEMEN,—The Range Committee submit the following report of additions and repairs which have been made during the past year:—

The piazza and wind screens have been extended over balance of targets at 200 yards' firing-point.

Well driven, which gives good satisfaction and fills a long-needed want. The whole range has been refitted with flags, which are quite satisfactory to the shooters.

Two cases of lockers have been added; all are taken. Firing-points have been changed at 600 yards.

The electric bells have not worked satisfactorily the past year. The range is in good condition with the exception of the pit at 1,000 yards, which will need repairing in the spring.

The committee recommend changing firing-points at 200 yards, having two glasses for each target when in use,—one for scorer, the other for shooters.

The pavilion at 200 yards needs repainting. Some grading could be done at a moderate expense, which would be a decided improvement.

Two targets for 100 yards' shooting are much needed. The electric bells should be put in the best possible condition; then if they do not work well, discard them.

REPORT OF TRAP-SHOOTING COMMITTEE.

To the Massachusetts Rifle Association:—

GENTLEMEN,—Your Trap-Shooting Committee respectfully submit the following report:—

During the fiscal year 1889 there have been held at the range twenty-four shot-gun competitions, which, in the main, have been well attended. No tournament of special interest has been held for the purpose of attracting shooters from abroad, and the shooting of the past year has been done principally by members of the Association,—in practice, in sweepstake shooting, and for prizes offered by the Association.

In June, 1888, the Association offered for competition the Climax Diamond Badge, which was shot for at twelve consecutive monthly meetings. At the final competition, in May, 1889, Messrs. T. G. Strater, H. G. Wheeler, and E. J. Wardwell, all members of the Association, were tied. In shooting off the tie, at 10 clay pigeons and 10 Standard targets, Mr. Wardwell made a score of 19, and became the possessor of the costly medal.

The most important feature of the year's shooting was the series of competitions in the "Gold Coin and Merchandise Match," which opened on May 1 and closed on Dec. 24, 1889. This match was open to all comers, and in it the Association offered an extremely attractive and valuable list of prizes, of an aggregate value of $325.

At the final competition it was found that Messrs. S. Bowker and M. Knowles were tied for the sixth choice of prizes. This tie was shot off on Jan. 8, 1890, and Mr. Bowker won. In view of the excellent work done by Mr. Knowles during the year, the committee thought it best to award him a complimentary prize, and they accordingly presented to him a fine split-bamboo fishing-rod.

The following list will show the winners in their order, together with the prize chosen by each:—

W. E. Perry, — 1st Prize, — Parker 10-Gauge, Hammerless Gun; fine Damascus barrels, extra fine shooting (made expressly for this match)	$100 00
T. G. Strater, — 2d Prize, — Silver Tea Set (six pieces), first quality plate, superfine finish	60 00
O. R. Dickey, — 3d Prize, — Gold Coin	20 00
H. Strater, — 4th Prize, — Two Sets (three pieces each) Beef, Steak, and Game Carvers, in Fine Plush Cases	15 00
C. B. Sanborn, — 5th Prize, — Gold Coin	15 00
S. Bowker, — 6th Prize, — Opal Shirt-Stud, in Morocco Case	25 00
H. G. Wheeler, — 7th Prize, — Gold Coin	7 50
J. N. Frye, — 8th Prize, — Water Color, landscape with sheep, by E. J. Shaler, Esq.	25 00
F. L. Barrows, — 9th Prize, — Gold Coin	5 00
J. S. Sawyer, — 10th Prize, — One Set "Old Silver Finish" Medium Knives, in Plush Case	7 00
E. J. Neale, — 11th Prize, — New Lovell Hammerless 35-Calibre Shell-Extracting Revolver	10 00
J. A. Frye, — 12th Prize, — Opera Glass, 17 line	6 00
T. Curtis, — 13th Prize, — Gold Coin	2 50
M. Knowles, — Complimentary Prize, — Split-Bamboo Fly Bass Rod (10 ft., 9 oz.)	10 00
W. E. Perry, — Prize, — Gold Coin to the competitor making the highest aggregate in the total number of scores	5 00
Mr. Perry's average in the match is a trifle over 92 per cent.
A. W. Gore, Esq., — Prize in Special Match, — Split-Bamboo Fly Trout Rod (10½ ft., 7½ oz.)	7 00

On Jan. 8, 1890, a special match was held for a split-bamboo trout rod, — a prize for which no competitor had qualified in the match just closed. This was won by Mr. A. W. Gore, as above noted.

On Wednesday, October 2, and for the six following alternate Wednesdays, competitions were held, under the auspices of the Association, for the gold medal presented by the Standard Target Company.

In shooting for this trophy competitors were divided into three classes. Those in Class A shot at 20 Standard targets for a score, while those in Classes B and C shot at 22 and 24 targets respectively. A competitor in any class making a score of 20 was credited with one point, and the medal was won by the competitor scoring the greatest number of points in the several competitions. Mr. W. Gale, of Class C, having made four scores of 20, was awarded the trophy.

Considering the limited amount of shooting during the year, the financial results are gratifying, and the committee take pleasure in reporting that a net balance of $176.67 is found to the credit of this branch of the sport, after the paying of each and every expense chargeable to it, as shown by a detailed statement of receipts and expenditures this day rendered to the Treasurer.

The committee also would report that the facilities at the range for trap-shooting are equal to those of any previous year. In addition to the traps and birds already on hand, a supply of about 175 Chicago tin birds has been secured, together with three traps for throwing them.

If this branch of the sport is to increase in popularity, or even if it is to continue to be as successful as in the past, your committee feel that better train accommodations are an absolute necessity. It is important, not only that the range should be reached more easily from Boston, but also from Lowell and Lawrence, where a large number of the Association members reside. The present railroad service is so meagre as greatly to handicap the sport, and your committee earnestly renew their recommendation of last year, that a vigorous effort be made to secure better and more frequent transportation.

Acknowledgments are due the following-named for valuable contributions to our shot-gun prize list: E. J. Neale, Esq., R. N. Oakman, Esq., E. J. Shaler, Esq., E. J. Wardwell, Esq., A. L. Brown, Esq., Messrs. Wm. Rand & Sons, J. P. Lovell Arms Company, Messrs. Dame, Stoddard, & Kendall, Meriden Cutlery Company.
